their classroom, that they could just do with a facilitator there. There are several ways to deliver the system.

SENATOR SCHIMEK: Okay. Have you been...excuse me. But have they been involved in the planning of this at all?

SENATOR HILLMAN: Since about probably the first...

SENATOR CROSBY: One minute.

SENATOR HILLMAN: ...of July.

SENATOR SCHIMEK: Okay. Let me ask Senator Kiel then a quick question about caps on those educational lottery funds, Senator Kiel. I think you heard the question.

SENATOR CROSBY: Senator Kiel.

SENATOR KIEL: Yes. No, I didn't, I'm just getting ready for my legislation.

SENATOR SCHIMEK: Is there a cap...

SENATOR KIEL: Oh, that's right.

SENATOR SCHIMEK: Is there a cap on what a school can receive in education lottery funds? If they've got this fantastic project, could they receive $800,000?

SENATOR KIEL: Typically, what we've looked at is $500,000 per participant. That means if a school district is participating with some other entities, each one of those would be eligible for up to...I'm sorry $300,000, I misspoke.

SENATOR SCHIMEK: Okay. And would there be any prohibition on funds to this project, since it involves a community college?

SENATOR KIEL: No.

SENATOR SCHIMEK: Thank you.

SENATOR CROSBY: Thank you, Senator Schimek. Senator Wehrbein.
